'LOST' AMERICAN FLYER REACHES ICELAND!

DAWES PLAN AGREEMENT REACHED

Long Plenary Session Ends When Reports Adopted By Delegation

United States and Mexico Relations Are 'Satisfactory'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Relations between the United States and Mexico are on a more satisfactory basis now than at any time since the Diaz administration, Charles Beecher Warren, who, on Monday, will resign as the American Ambassador to Mexico, declared today. Warren predicted that his successor would be appointed without delay, as President Coolidge, whose guest he is at the White House, is desirous of filling the post before the American-Mexican claims commission meets at Mexico City.

Seek Permission for Mother to Enter U.S.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—While a heartbroken mother is waiting in Vancouver, B. C., for permission to cross the international boundary line to join her husband and four babies in this city, Washington officials were appealed to today to lift immigration quota regulations to permit Mrs. Louis Goldberg, a naturalized Canadian citizen, to enter this country.

According to Mrs. Goldberg's attorneys, who have asked Senator Shortridge of California to aid them in their fight to see her family, Goldberg, his wife, and children crossed the Canadian border without paying head tax. Later they returned to right their error. Then, it is asserted, that, by mistake, the woman was classified as a Russian subject.

Suicide Motive Is Mystery to Police

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—L. D. Baker, 43, had money in the bank, an automobile, good health and a home, but he is dead here today, a victim of self-administered chloroform. Authorities were unable to account for Baker's suicide.

Leopold, Loeb 'Mentally Sick', Asserts Alienist

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Both Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb, were "intellectually capable" of choosing between right and wrong on the day they kidnapped little Bobby Franks and mashed his head with a cold chisel and hid his body in an isolated culvert, but "morally they had no feeling attitude about it."

This conclusion was drawn from Dr. William A. White, one of the alienists retained by the boys' wealthy families, today, on cross-examination by State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

That was as far as Crowe could get in pinning "legal responsibility" on the two young slayers through their own alienist.

Time and again, in a dozen different ways, the state's attorney tried to get a flat statement from Dr. White as to whether Leopold and Loeb are sane or insane, within the meaning of the law, but every time the words "legal insanity" or "sane" and "insane" crept into the questions, attorneys for the defense raised objections and always the court upheld them.

"Mentally sick" was the psychiatrist's description of both you slayers, but whether that sickness reached the point of insanity was a matter that Dr. White was forced to speak of.

The cross-examination proceeded with constant bickering between the witnesses and the

REALTORS TO BOOST FOR GLENDALE

Local Board Members Meet To Plan for Stunts at Pasadena Gathering

GLENDALE is going to be in the limelight every minute that the annual convention of the California Real Estate association is in session at Pasadena in October if the plans outlined at last night's meeting of a number of realtors at the W. L. Twining home at 1734 Hillside drive are carried out.

Mr. Twining, as chairman of the convention committee, was host to a selected list of twenty members of the Glendale Realty board at a dinner at which the campaign to impress Glendale on the mind of every visitor to the convention was prepared in detail.

Program of Stunts From the minute the southbound caravan of northern realtors approaches the city limits until the last gavel rap marks the close of the convention, Glendale will be in evidence and the stunts that are to be presented will form one of the high lights of the sessions and will help to relieve the tedium that might otherwise develop through too close an application to business.

The reception committee that will welcome the caravan will be headed by L. H. Myers; Lon J. Haddock and his committee will work out the stunts program that is to include a lot of novel features; Secretary Jas. W. Pearson will have charge of the banners, pennants and achievement reports, which will include the report on the educational work of the board and on municipal achievements during the past year; and George D. McDill will prepare the plans for holding the Home Town oratorical contest to select a representative for Glendale.

Other Assignments E. P. Hayward was appointed to prepare for the nomination and election of directors of the Glendale board before the opening of the convention and other chairmen who will work to make Glendale's share in the convention a success are W. S. Kirk, advertising; Peter Hanson and W. L. Twining, headquarters; H. L. Finlay, attendance; James H. Rhoades, finance; W. A. Horn, publicity; J. M. Boland, entertainment.

Blame Wind Gust for Death of Mail Pilot

RENO, Aug. 2.—Experienced flyers expressed belief today that a sudden gust of wind was responsible for the nose dive which carried William F. Blanchfield, United States air mail pilot, to his death late yesterday as he prepared to drop a wreath on the grave of Samuel Gerrans, world war veteran and air mail service mechanic. The plane crashed on a house, three women narrowly escaping. The gasoline tank exploded and plane and house went up in flames.

No Accident Week' In Glendale, Aug. 10 to 16

While it is the desire of automobile drivers to reduce the number of accidents to the minimum all times of the year, yet there is something commendable in making a special effort for the period of one week to reduce automobile accidents.

Therefore, The Glendale Evening News calls attention to the period of time beginning Sunday, August 10 and ending Saturday, August 16, which will be known as "No Accident Week."

May the days of that week be significant on account of extra careful driving of automobiles.

If every driver will look out for his own safety and the safety of his fellow driver, accidents will be lessened still more, and possibly entirely avoided.

The great majority of Glendale drivers are careful and seek to avoid accidents. It is possible, therefore, through the exercise of every precaution, to eliminate accidents entirely.

"No Accident Week" will have the hearty support of the Glendale Automobile Dealers' association, and it will have the support of the Glendale branch of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

FOREST FIRE CONTINUES IN NORTH

Little Progress Is Made In Combating Flames as More Men Drafted

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—Despite almost Herculean efforts to check forest fires burning throughout California little progress has been made in combating the major blazes.

In the vicinity of Quincy, Plumas county, a fire which for a time was threatening the town was nearly out today, but the great fire near Nelson Point, a few miles to the northward, was raging today with renewed intensity, according to advices from Quincy.

Out of Control

The fire was sweeping up Feather River canyon and seventy-five more fire-fighters were hastily recruited today and sent to the front to relieve and reinforce tired fighters who have been "on the line" for nearly a week. Additional men will be sent forward later.

The Hutchinson fire near Oroville, likewise, was reported out of control today and burning fiercely.

In the far south the Cleveland national forest fire was still out of control and causing grave concern. Paul G. Redington, district forester, is personally directing the battle against this blaze.

ANNEXATION MAY SOLVE PROBLEM

Sycamore Water Co. Seeks To Quit Service; City Gives District Aid

It is probable that a district in Sycamore canyon comprising about 300 acres and containing some twenty-five homes will have to consolidate with Glendale in order to assure a continuation of water service, according to Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, who represented Glendale yesterday in a hearing by the Sycamore Canyon Water company before the State Railroad commission, in Los Angeles, on an application to discontinue service.

The company was represented by Wellborn, Wellborn & Wellborn, Los Angeles attorneys, who claimed as grounds for the application that it is impossible to maintain and operate the service at a profit. The commission was presided over by Examiner Williams. After hearing the evidence for the accident, he and his daughter were on their way to Portland to join Mrs. Hockenberry and other relatives. The girl was a student at California State college, Fresno.

Bill Uncollected

It was brought out that the Sycamore Canyon Water company has not collected its bills for the past three months. Mr. Morrow states, and that there are no meters in the territory, a flat rate of $1 a month being charged each consumer.

Oil's Well! for Nation's Capital Is Out of Debt!

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The city of Washington is out of debt!

This announcement was made by the District of Columbia commissioners today after it was made known that funds for the retirement of the last remaining bond issue of the city were available in the treasury.

It is the first time in history that the city has been out of debt, and it is believed that it is a record seldom equalled by any large city in the country.

Buyers of Dry Goods Place Heavy Orders

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2.—Jobbers and retail stores here have been large buyers of dry goods in the last week and most of them have provided for present needs.

Orders for fall shipments showed material improvement during the last few days as a result of activity in the primary goods markets. Most of these orders came from sections of the south not affected by dry weather. Merchants in districts where drought prevails still are indisposed to please orders until the crop outlook is more assured. Lumber sales have run nearly as high as in January, the best month of 1924, so far.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

POLITICAL WAR IN NEW YORK

The followers of Senator La Follette and Senator Wheeler, the real new senatorial presidential oligarchy, rose up today to remark that they, too, are going to fight for New York state in the coming election. Furthermore, the Progressives, as they call themselves now, are going to raise funds in New York city to help carry on their fight. It is asserted in most positive fashion, however, that none of it will trickle in from Wall Street.

State adherents of the La Follette-Wheeler political merger are planning to hold a big convention in Albany in about two weeks, and there has been some talk that they might indorse Mayor Hylan of that city, who is looking for a demand to come from the people that he run for governor against Al Smith in the event John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential candidate, is successful in getting Al to stand for a third term. Mr. Smith already has carried the Democratic banner in the state three times, twice successively, and is anxious to retire to private life, but national leaders of the party are insistent that he make one more stand in an effort to swing the forty-five votes of the Empire state into the Davis column.

Mayor Hylan is watching every move made by or in behalf of Governor Smith, and is holding out his own threat of an independent candidacy as a means of discouraging the Democrats in naming the governor a fourth time. The governor and the mayor love each other like a couple of strange bulldogs. The La Follette-Wheeler third party coalition might be to the liking of the mayor, but the third party people themselves seem a bit dubious about the mayor. They do not know whether he would stay put or not and most of the spokesmen of the conglomeration of forces arrayed under the La Follette banner are desirous of putting one of their own men at the head of the state ticket so there will be no danger of some one running away with the party at a crucial moment in the campaign.

The state conference for Progressive political action, which is still the name the La Follette followers cling to in New York state, has decided upon an active program and a full state ticket. There has been some talk that friends of Governor Smith among the disaffected political elements gathering around the La Follette flag may attempt to stampede the Progressive convention into an endorsement of the governor for a third time. These elements, however, are finding the same opposition which applies to Mayor Hylan. An endorsement of Al Smith, it is argued, might result in swallowing up of the entire Progressive movement in New York and work to the advantage of Mr. Davis and President Coolidge.

The Progressives are being urged to greater efforts by the national leaders at Washington. They are being told that the movement is growing like wildfire the country over, and there is no reason why the flames of discontent with the two old parties should not be fanned into full blaze here in the heart of the conservative east. The Progressives have been immensely pleased with the publicity they have been getting, and by the consideration given them by the Republican and Democratic managers. The third party is feeding fat upon the denunciations being heaped upon it and is gathering strength by the north pole is not the coldest place on earth, as many people imagine.

Oceans always act as a moderating influence upon temperature and the north pole is surrounded by the sea.

There are parts of the United States and of Siberia where the cold is greater than at the north pole.

The temperature at the pole never falls below 60 degrees. In Montana thermometers have registered 60 degrees and in Siberia there are places where 70 degrees and 80 are not uncommon, and one of them has experienced 93 degrees, which is 30 degrees below the temperature of the north pole.

It is reasonable to suppose that if ostriches were as stupid as reputed they would fall all prey shortly to other predatory animals.

Some Popular Beliefs

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Wilhjalmur Stefansson, the arctic explorer, writing in the London Spectator, demolishes many popular errors to which most of us still cling, although they are vestiges of uncritical ages.

It is possible," says Stefansson, "to get thousands to testify to the beneficial effect of the snow treatment of frost-bites, but not nearly as many as would have testified, in Columbus' time, to the flatness of the earth, or, in Washington's time, to the efficacy of blood-letting."

1. In the first place Stefansson says that the north pole is not the coldest place on earth, as many people imagine.

Horoscope

This should be a fairly fortunate day, according to astrology. Saturn, Venus and Mercury are all in benefit aspect. Mars is adverse.

While this configuration prevails women should benefit greatly. Whether in the world of business or in home associations.

Happy should be the bride who weds under this sway of the star, for she should have many years in which prosperity as well as love will safeguard her.

Labor matters should be more satisfactory insofar as workers are to gain political power.

There is a promising rule for women who sign contracts. Actresses may count this their lucky day.

One who would settle accounts and systemize their financial affairs are supposedly to be wisely guided by this day's aspects.

BOTH ARE RIGHT

A conductor and a brakeman on a Montana railroad differed as to the proper pronunciation of the name "Eurelia." Passengers at this station are often startled to hear the conductor yell:

"You're a liar! You're a liar!"

And it does not help matters when the brakeman immediately pops his head through the rear door and remark:

"You really are! You really are!"

The Eskimos, on the contrary, have no written language at all, so that every word contained in the Eskimo dictionary is in use today.

Today's Poem

IN OUR BOAT

Stars trembling o'er us and sunset before us, Mountains in shadow and forests asleep;

Down the dim river we float on forever,

Speak not, ah, breathe not—there's peace on the deep.

Come not, pale sorrow, flee till tomorrow;

Rest softly falling o'er eyelids that weep;

While down the river we float on forever,

Speak not, ah, breathe not—there's peace on the deep.

As the waves cover the depths we glide over,

Let the past in forgetfulness sleep,

While down the river we float on forever,

Speak not, ah, breathe not—there's peace on the deep.

Heaven shines above us, bless all that love us;

All whom we love in thy tenderness keep;

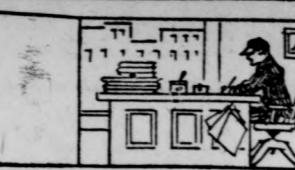

While down the river we float on forever,

Speak not, ah, breathe not—there's peace on the deep.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

A crony of mine who thought he had been treated unfairly by his employer said to me the other day: "There is no justice in the world." And sometimes when I look about I have to admit that he is not far from the truth.

As for myself, I have enjoyed prosperity and I have suffered the reverse. But those things do not mean very much to me as long as I have the reasonable amenities of life. But I never could understand why, or reconcile myself to the fact that some little children have to be born in poverty and suffer all sorts of hardships, such as hunger and cold, lack of schooling, hard labor, perhaps leading to a life of crime, while others have too much care and attention. To me this is most appalling injustice. I cannot reconcile it with the truth of a loving God.

It is often said that there is no such thing as luck. That we can make our lives what we will. That is a pretty-sounding theory and true, in a measure. Nevertheless there are those who can affirm that there is really such a thing as ill-fortune and good-fortune, that, try as we will, we cannot all attain the same intellectual heights, we have not all the same capacity for amassing wealth. Some of us really do have limitations that cannot be overcome. Many a fellow has been a success in life because he has had no opportunity to be anything else, and the reverse is true, too. Of course, I know that many have won their way to high places by their own efforts alone.

I have seen boys and girls trying to acquire the education they should have had in childhood and playing a losing game in their efforts to make good in some position. Others with better qualifications, but with greater opportunities outstripped them in the race. When men are well along in years you may say: "This one made the most of his opportunities, that one neglected his." But you cannot say this of children or young people just starting out in life.

I have seen people who had every care in their childhood turn against their parents in old age. Is this justice? Some surround their aged parents with luxuries and others have to see their mothers, equally dear, do without the things that would make life easy for them.

The man who steals a bottle of milk or a loaf of bread is punished and he should be. The one who can hire legal talent to help him keep his thefts within the law goes free. Where is justice?

I am apt to be pessimistic when I get to thinking of this question of justice.

The man who steals a bottle of milk or a loaf of bread is punished and he should be. The one who can hire legal talent to help him keep his thefts within the law goes free. Where is justice?

I am apt to be pessimistic when I get to thinking of this question of justice.

"Ye Market Place", Built Entirely Of Stone-Tile, Nears Completion

A Glendale product, STONE-TILE, is used exclusively in the construction of the latest business block addition to the commercial district on Los Feliz road, between Brand boulevard and Central avenue, which has a frontage of 200 feet on Los Feliz road, and a depth of 175 feet. There will be thirty stores under one roof when the building is completed, each store having outside frontage. A unique feature will be a large court for entrance with plenty of parking space. Every convenience for shoppers will be provided in the completed structure, and the grouping of the thirty stores under one roof will enable the housewife to buy all necessary articles for the house, without becoming weary from a long shopping tour. "YE MARKET PLACE" will be ready about September 1, and when completed will stand as a monument to the rapid growth and marvelous gains in the business activities of Glendale. This building is only one of the many structures now being built or completed in this territory within the last year where STONE-TILE was used exclusively in the construction.

WANT LOWER COSTS FOR BONDING

Present $20 Charge Is Too High, Says Association's Law Committee

Indiscriminate bonding of applicants for a real estate broker's license is frowned upon by the legislative committee of the California Real Estate association, and efforts are to be made to reduce the cost of a $2000 bond, now fixed at $20, through conference with the representatives of the surety companies.

Freeman H. Bloodgood, former real estate commissioner of California, is the chairman of the committee which held a preliminary meeting to ascertain what recommendations should be made at the quarterly meeting of the state directors of the California Real Estate association to be held in Long Beach, August 16.

Want Conference

It was decided to call upon President Barbour to appoint a committee to confer with the bonding interests to the end that a reduction in the cost of the bond may be brought about.

It was further suggested that the purpose of the legislation creating the bond feature of the Real Estate Act should be more closely adhered to, and that each applicant for a bond should be required by the surety companies to answer a questionnaire fully setting forth his financial responsibility, his moral character and his general business reputation in his community. Only those qualifying for the tests required for the average bond should be granted a bond, according to the committee.

Girl Scouts Will Go To Camp at Laguna

LA CRESCENTA, Aug. 2.—Sunday morning the Girl Scouts of La Crescenta valley will assemble at the home of Scout Captain Jessie Hansen at 6:45 a.m. The Captain asks each Girl Scout to bring her full equipment and to be on time. No truck being offered the girls, they have had to practically drain their bank accounts to hire one, and as there was a shortage of cars to carry the Scouts themselves, they will ride with the equipment in the truck.

About sixteen Scouts will go the first week, all of them being from the older patrol, and next week the younger girls will go to the camp at Laguna. In the provisions is a large box of marshmallows and on the last night of each patrol's holiday there will be a marshmallow bake on the beach. Mrs. Hansen has provided a steamer trunk of clothes for giving impromptu plays around the camp fires in the evening.

Hoover to Speak at Iowans' State Picnic

LONG BEACH, Aug. 2.—A speech by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, native of Iowa, and one of California's foremost adopted sons, is advertised as the big attraction at the Iowa state picnic in Bixby park here August 9, one week from today, which will be attended by no less than 50,000 former residents, it is predicted.

Alhambra Men Head $100,000 Corporation

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—Articles of incorporation have been filed with the county clerk here by the Western Carbon Paper Manufacturing company of Los Angeles, the directors, C. K. Bland, E. W. Rutledge and Alfred Barstow, all residing in Alhambra. Capital stock is $100,000.

REALTORS TO CONTINUE STUDIES

University Course Will Be Available In October, Chairman Claims

Increased activity in education work is promised by Harrison J. Lewis, chairman of the educational committee of the California Real Estate association, for the fall semester. In co-operation with the realty boards and the University of Southern California classes were established in fifteen cities last spring, the last class having completed its first thirteen weeks of lessons last Tuesday.

About 1000 real estate brokers, salesmen and property owners took the course under the auspices of the realty boards of the state association. All of these boards will continue their educational work and additional classes will be organized.

According to Chairman Lewis it is likely that by the first of October the University of California will have completed a course in real estate practice similar to the one now used by the University of Southern California.

Upon graduation in the courses now given by the University of Southern California in conjunction with the California Real Estate association, a diploma is being awarded to those who have satisfactorily completed the lessons. It is believed that such a diploma will subsequently be accepted by the State Real Estate commission as prima facie evidence of the ability of an applicant to hold a broker's license and that all holders of such diplomas will not have to answer a questionnaire or pass any further examinations to procure a license.

Prominent Business Men of City Are Members Of Company Which Will Put Glendale on Map as Great Commercial Center

With a frontage of 200 feet on Los Feliz road and a depth of 175 feet, comprising some thirty individual store buildings under one roof, "Ye Market Place," which is now nearing completion between Brand boulevard and Central avenue, is assuming added importance each day, not only as an attractive show place for Glendale, but as concrete evidence of the progressive spirit of the forward looking business men of this rapidly growing city.

"Ye Market Place" is all that the name implies—a complete model place where practically every want of the family can be taken care of insofar as the purchase of merchandise is concerned, being owned by a company composed of the following prominent Glendale men, to whose keen business acumen it will be a standing monument for many years: C. L. Peckham, president; John G. Crofton, secretary and treasurer; J. L. Flint, Chas. T. Green, G. K. Bolt, C. T. Mace, C. T. Ray, directors.

Big Parking Space

As a building "Ye Market Place" is a real achievement in design and construction, being so arranged that each store space has outside frontage, with a large court for entrance and parking which is approximately 140 feet by 145 feet. There will be thirty individual stores under the one roof, each store being 14 feet by 30 feet in size.

The entire building is constructed of Stone-tile throughout, a Glendale product, manufactured by the Concrete Brick and Tile company of this city. R. E. Johnston, president of this company, is well known throughout the Glendale district, being a prime mover in practically all of the activities which are fast putting Glendale on the map as a business city of more than average importance.

Stone-tile was selected as the building material for "Ye Market Place" because of its many features which are coming to be realized as highly desirable for structures of all classes, such as: Permanency, strength, resistance to fire and the elements, and others, as well as its attractiveness and over-all economy. The arches throughout the building are also built of Stone-tile, the east, west and south walls being what is termed "struck," or pointed, presenting a very attractive grey wall effect. The front of the entire building is to be stuccoed in white, and will be very beautiful.

Many Buildings

The Concrete Brick and Tile company has furnished Stone-tile for many new buildings in this district during the past year, and at the present time, according to President Johnston of the Concrete Brick and Tile company, there is a large number of buildings under construction in which its product is being used. Among others are the following:

Montrose theatre, Montrose, one of the largest jobs in this district, which is being built entirely of Stone-tile.

The L. H. Wilson garage, 520 West Garfield street.

One story building being erected by May and Hellman, contractors, at San Fernando and Los Feliz roads.

The Messenger building, also being erected by May and Hellman, for garage purposes, at Harvard street and Glendale avenue.

The Sontag store building on Glendale avenue near Broadway, which was designed by Alfred Priest, Glendale's well known architect.

Building for J. F. Baudino on rear of lot at corner of Los Feliz and Hill streets.

ATTACKS ON SOUTHLAND REFUTED

Anti-California Propaganda Disproved by Facts In Editorial

Under the caption of "Truth," the following editorial appeared in the Los Angeles Realtor, the official publication of the Los Angeles Realty board:

Since time immemorial Los Angeles has been the object of bitter, jealous attack from various other sections of the United States. But never before has there been a more sustained flood of misrepresentation and innuendo than has eddied and swirled over various eastern cities and middle western states regarding this city and its environs during the last six months.

The delegates from the Los Angeles Realty board who attended the Washington convention were met with the query on every hand from representatives of almost every part of the United States: "My, what a terrible slump you are having in Los Angeles! I hear the bubble has burst. How about it?"—and other expressions of like import.

As a matter of fact, for the first six months of 1924, the dollars and cents involved in realty transactions are 20.5 per cent greater than represented in the real estate transfers during the same period of 1923 which was a record year for Los Angeles realty activity. These figures were specially furnished The Realtor by E. L. Farmer, vice-president of the Title Insurance & Trust company, and one of the most careful business statisticians in the west.

Fair Barometer

While these figures are for Mr. Farmer's company alone, they represent the same proportion, practically, for all other title companies. Owing to the method of transacting realty operations in Los Angeles, this percentage is a fair barometer and is strictly accurate.

Taking the same standard of comparison, the first six months of 1922 represent an increase of 35.56 per cent in dollars and cents over the same period of 1921, while 1923 was 103 per cent greater than 1921, and 1924 has shown a 145 per cent increase over 1921.

The terrible "slump" caused the building permits for the first six months of 1924 to be practically two-thirds of the 1922 total for the entire year, and it is only $14,000,000 behind the record breaking 1923 building pace for the first six months which nobody of sound and rational mind expected would be equaled in 1924.

These figures are taken from reports issued by J. J. Backus, head of the city building department, and the compilation was made by his chief statistician, R. L. Balaam, and the authenticity of these statements certainly never will be doubted by any critic.

Bank Deposits Grow

The "slump" is furthermore indicated by an increase in Los An-

WILL AWARD TROPHIES AT MEET

Realtors Will Compete for Prizes of Value at October Convention

Many cups and trophies will be awarded to the realty boards and members of the California Real Estate association at the twentieth annual convention to be held at Pasadena October 8, 9, 10 and 11, probably none is more important or more sought after than the famous Fred E. Reed "Home Town Contest Cup," awarded to the real estate broker who in five minutes makes the best address setting forth the advantages of the city in which he lives and operates. But one member may represent a board in this contest and already entries are being made at the offices of the state association.

Pasadena holds the trophy now, having won it last year at Sacramento when President Robert A. Swink delivered his prize-winning

Lane Makes Offer to Buy Vernon Franchise

An offer of $175,000 for the franchise of the Vernon baseball club was made by William Lane, owner of the Salt Lake team, to Ed Maier yesterday, according to Harry A. Williams. It is believed that if Lane can obtain a fifty-year lease on the new Wrigley park the deal will go through.

Williams states that Lane would be a popular owner if he should obtain the franchise. In Salt Lake he has proved his gameness again since he has taken hold of the club in 1922. Lane is a bachelor and a millionaire several times. He owns five mines in Utah and has been a miner the greater part of his life.

Montrose Residents Select Name for Park

MONTROSE, Aug. 2.—The park at Glendale and Crescent avenue has been named Washington Place by the citizens of Montrose, who recently gathered there to consider a name for the spot. Captain Farnel made the motion to adopt this name and it was seconded by E. G. Leuntzel. Captain Farnel also pledged his services as caretaker for the coming two years, having acted in this capacity for the past two years, watering and caring for the shrubs free of charge.

Dense forests of valuable timber are found in interior Guiana. (Turn to page 12, col. 5)

FAST BALL GAME ON BILL SUNDAY

White Sox Meet Champions
Of Entire U. S. Navy
Here Tomorrow

One of the fastest semipro baseball games ever staged in Glendale is promised for tomorrow when the champion White Sox take on the title bearers of the navy, the Air Fleet Station team of San Diego. The airmen won the naval pennant by victories over every battleship and station fleet in the entire United States, while the White Sox defeated every team in the Summer league twice, and have piled up a record of twenty-five consecutive victories.

Advance orders from down towards borders indicate that the White Sox are due for an upset tomorrow afternoon. To assist the airmen in putting up a game fight in their endeavor to turn back the pale hose wearers and cut short the string of unbroken victories, a collection of nearly 2000 loyal fans is coming from the southernmost port on the Pacific coast to root for the airmen.

It behoves every true dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan of this and surrounding cities to be present at the park on San Fernando road tomorrow to lend moral support to the White Sox by long and frequent cheers, thus offsetting to a degree the clamor of the San Diego fans are going to make.

Elmer Reiger, who has hurled the Sox to victory in a number of games in recent weeks, will draw the pitching assignment for tomorrow, according to Bob Carl Sawyer, "Big Boy" Joe Sullivan will be behind the plate to do the receiving. Shellenbach will play his customary good game at first, Sawyer will hold down the key stone sack, Shields will cavor around third and Hirigoyen will be stopping 'em at short. In the outer gardens, waiting for the pelting of the airmen, will be Cy Young, Charlie Dorman and French Orsatt.

Two scouts from major league teams will be on hand to look over the work of some of the players. One scout is from the Chicago Cubs, while the other is ivory hunter for the St. Louis Cardinals, and it is almost certain some of the players will receive tempting offers if they play like they have been recently.

Dry Goods Team Takes Match From Carlocks

The Glendale Dry Goods bowlers took two of the three games played last night against the Carlocks, runners-up in the city bowling league. Claiming the winners was the shooting star of the match, rolling 203-223-255 for a total of 630.

Line-Up For Tomorrow

Dan Kelly and Carl Klindt are expected to reach here tonight with the Air Station team, champions of the entire United States navy, for their game tomorrow with the Glendale White Sox to decide the semi-pro title of Southern California. Branch will be the airmen's choice for the mound, while Reiger, who has been working out the last few days with the Vernon Tigers, will hurl for the local team. CHAPTER XVIII
About a week after the party Craig told her, casually and in Kraus' presence, that he had seen Kronski again. Mrs. Dwyer had given him an evening reception after his last New York concert; Kronski had been sailing in the morning. Craig did not tell her that the young violinist, with his shoes of black hair, and his black eye-glass ribbon, and the tiny colored emblem of his foreign decoration in his buttonhole, had been a surprisingly imposing, almost forbidding, figure in the Dwyers' elaborately equipped music-room. He, Craig, had found him impressive, oddly restored by his very ungraciousness to that pedestal upon which he had originally placed him. There was something of the general peasant in Kronski's even looks; Mrs. Dwyer indeed had pronounced him to be disarming and concealed, and with some truth. But Craig could forgive the musician for showing his worst side in that particular atmosphere!

"Some of us, the Vanderworts and the Pickerrings, saw him off on the Aquitania the next morning," Craig told Hilary. The girl felt a bitter resentment seize her. What was the matter with her in these days?—she asked herself, impatiently. What was it to her, if some idle rich people went laughing and chattering to the big liner, to wave good-bye to Konrad Kronski? They had always been doing these pretty, agreeable things, and they always would. Why should it be suddenly begin to prick Hilary Collier?

Nevertheless, the pain persisted, and against her own better judgment she found herself telling Dora about it that evening. "H'm!" Dora commented, compressing her lips as she tightened an E string. They went through a duet conscientiously; stopping dutifully to repeat and repeat and repeat a troublesome passage. Then Dora added suddenly: "We do the work, and introduce him to Craig Spaulding, and then these Dwyers who don't know Strauss from jazz take him up and make much of him!"

Hilary felt a pang of compunction. The thought had been pricking her all day; but might she not have been generous enough to spare Dora? The shadow of the lovely little face haunted her, and during the next few days, as she went to and fro, she discovered new heights of courage and self-denial in herself, and rose to them heroically.

"The Price She Paid" will be presented for the last time tonight by Murphy's Comedians at their tent theatre on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo. Starting Sunday, the play will be "Why Men Leave Home," a screaming comedy of the type these players know so well how to put on.

The theatre is between Brand boulevard and Central avenue.

The curtain rises at 8 o'clock sharp, states J. A. Menard, manager. Special rehearsals were conducted by the company, he states, in order to perfect the play.

THE GLENDALE

"Stolen Secrets" concludes at the Glendale theatre today. Sunday to Wednesday, inclusive, the feature is "How to Educate a Wife."

I'm leaving Reggy, Craig." "You really are, V?" he said, distressed. This was his first definite intimation of it.

"Oh, yes, I really am! It can't be done, Craig," she said with a long, tired sigh. "And I—I like you too much. I don't want you mixed into this mess! It's all so putrid. Time enough for that later!"

Well, it was acting, of course. Vi was always acting. But to Craig it was decidedly disquieting, nonetheless. He liked Reggy Vandewort; he always had. He felt that Reggy had been the loser by his marriage; Vi was a beautiful and seductive little thing, of course, but she was a bloodless little thing, too. She had airily told quite a group of them, just before her marriage, that Reggy's enthusiasm for his sister's baby annoyed her.

"He can take it out on Kate's baby!" she had said, laughing. And two years or more after her marriage, when Craig, seriously distressed at the deepening breach between the young Vandeworts, had taken a close friend's brother right to hint to her that Reggy was the sort of man tightly held by nursery claims, Vi had quite good-naturedly repudiated the suggestion again.

"Oh, br-r-r! the whole idea is repulsive to me!" she had assured him, with a shudder. "You're quite right, Craig. Reggy would be absolutely nutty with joy. But excuse me. I don't see that it's my duty to gratify Reggy to that extent. Some day, maybe."

"What have I done? Vi?" Craig asked, after a pause.

"You?" She flashed him a look, looked down again. "No," she said, in a low voice, "but it's because I don't want people to say that it's on your account that

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor Lulu—I have been following your instructions for reducing for four months. At the beginning, I weighed 276, now 265, a reduction of 36 pounds. At present, I seem to be at a standstill; have not reduced in 30 days. Am exercising to some reducing records, but I find that unless I'm following a strict diet, I don't reduce. Am very grateful, however, to be rid of 36 pounds.—Mrs. S."

It is not uncommon for the diet upon which one formerly reduced, to become apparently the maintenance diet. I think in these cases it is better to have one very low calorie day a week, of not more than 500 to 600 C., rather than to reduce the diet still lower, especially if you are on a diet as low as 1200 C.

Skim or buttermilk or orange juice are good for this low calorie diet. Skim or buttermilk are 80 calories to the glass, and orange juice 100 calories to the glass. You will lose one pound or so on this low day and you won't gain on your 1200 C., so your weekly loss is accomplished. But—haven't you gone on some eating sprees? Search your heart carefully. You know the prophet Jeremiah says: "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked." Of course, we don't believe this, but you had better think about it a little.

All the reducing records that I have investigated are good. It is very pleasant to take exercise to music, but you have demonstrated that you have to diet also.

Marion—If you keep the skin on your hands soft and pliable, and get some vigorous outdoor exercise every day, your circulation ought to be so good that your hands should not be red. Glycerine, one part, and rose water four parts, is a good lotion. Or you can rub a few drops of the pure glycerine into your hands and add enough ordinary water to make that proportion. Use this always after you wash your hands and rub it on good.

PURCHASE SITES TO BUILD HOMES

Homecrafts Corporation to Erect Residences In Three Locations

The Homecrafts Corporation during this week has completed its purchase of property for its building program for the balance of 1924. In its entirety it comprises some $300,000 worth of building lots situated in three different locations, and being suitable for three different classes of buildings. One will have homes from $5000 to $6500; another from $7000 to $9000, and a third $12,000 to $35,000. The total price of these homes when completed and offered to the public will exceed the million mark, it is claimed.

By the purchasing of material and labor on a vast scale and by expert management and concentrated organization, it will be possible to build these homes of the best materials and workmanship, at the same time offering them to the public at reasonable prices and terms.

Plans On Display

In the higher priced homes, each house is treated individually to suit the particular lot and the particular environment. The natural contour is kept intact and preserved, making each creation one of natural beauty and distinction.

The public is invited to inspect the plans and specifications of these homes at any time in the company's office, 416 East Colorado street, thus giving the purchaser an opportunity to offer suggestions for minor alterations such as might add to his or her individual requirements and comforts.

ment: J. B. Galvin, sports; T. H. Menk, transportation. Other committees and their respective chairmen will be named as the necessity for them arises.

Each chairman will select his own committee members and will report to the board at the meeting on August 13 of the amount of money he expects to need for his special work, in order that the finance committee may be able to arrange to meet all obligations that the board and its committees will contract.

Harmony Promised

"Let's do the unique thing all the way through the convention," urged Mr. Twining, "and make people talk about us. Let's liven up the long-dragging discussions and put a stop to the mutual admiration business that so frequently clogs up the proceedings at these conventions."

One of the features that will help to put Glendale before the convention will be a quartette of vocalists, and, judging from the talent that was shown during last night's festivities, Mayor Spencer Robinson's laurels as a singer are liable to be shredded out fine among several members of the Glendale Realty board.
